Rhode Island Substance Use Treatment and Recovery Resources

If you are experiencing a mental health crisis or living with a substance use condition, there is help available.

Rhode Island has many resources to help you connect with treatment options, recovery support, harm reduction services, and more. Many of these resources are either free or offered at a low cost.

You can find additional resources on the Rhode Island Department of Behavioral Healthcare, Developmental Disabilities & Hospitals (BHDDH) Links and Resources webpage and the Prevent Overdose RI Get Help and Recovery webpages.

For immediate crisis services and support:

988 Suicide & Crisis Lifeline

Patients, clients, or their loved ones ages 18 and over who are experiencing a substance use crisis, emotional distress, or thoughts of suicide can call or text 988 or chat with 988 at 988lifeline.org to connect with a trained crisis counselor for support.

BH Link Triage Center

For adults, call or text 988 or chat at 988lifeline.org/chat to reach BH Link.

The BH Link Triage Center, located at 975 Waterman Ave., East Providence, Rhode Island, is a 24/7 community-based, walk-in/drop-off facility providing services for mental health and substance use crisis assessments and assistance with treatment referrals.

Safe Stations (24/7):

Providence Safe Stations

Available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. You can visit any of Providence's 12 fire stations, speak with the trained staff on duty, and immediately get connected to treatment support and services. Providence Safe Stations is free and provides a welcoming environment for when you're ready for recovery.

Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinics

A Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinic \(CCBHC\) is a specially-designated clinic that provides a comprehensive range of mental health and substance use services. CCBHCs serve anyone who walks through the door, regardless of diagnosis and insurance status.

At a CCBHC, a team of trained health professionals can:

- provide mental health support to you or a loved one,
- help you or a loved one with a substance use condition, and/or
- provide 24/7 crisis support.

The following locations are CCBHCs in Rhode Island:

Community Care Alliance (Woonsocket)

Family Service of Rhode Island (Providence)

Gateway Healthcare (Pawtucket, Johnston, and South County)

Newport Mental Health (Newport)

The Providence Center (Providence)

Thrive Behavioral Health (Warwick)

Please visit the website of a CCBHC near you to make an appointment or to learn about their walk-in services. You can also call 988 to learn more about their services or mobile crisis response.

If you are looking for detoxification services:

Detoxification treatment centers are inpatient facilities where you can stay for five to seven days and receive supervision for medically managed withdrawal, also commonly referred to as detoxification. This may include medications to ease the discomfort of withdrawal symptoms and treat substance use disorders. Anti-craving medications may also be prescribed during this time. It is important to note that currently, Butler Hospital is the only detoxification treatment center in Rhode Island that accepts pregnant individuals.

If you need inpatient rehabilitation, or “residential” services:

Inpatient rehabilitation facilities can provide you with residential services and support. It is where you can go during the early stages of recovery after completing detoxification. This means that you are no longer in acute withdrawal and may be taking medications to reduce cravings and treat substance use disorder.

In an inpatient facility, you can stay for up to 28 days. During your stay, you will be living with others who are starting their own recovery journey. You can participate in intensive group therapy, individual therapy, and other activities focused on building skills and confidence to maintain your recovery.

If you are in early recovery and need support from a recovery residence:

A “recovery residence” is a broad term describing a sober, safe, and healthy living environment that promotes recovery from alcohol or other substance use and associated issues. The purpose of a recovery residence is to improve one’s physical, mental, spiritual, and social wellbeing.

Recovery residences are divided into different levels of support. The levels are based on the type, as well as the intensity and duration, of support the residence offers. Services span from peer-to-peer recovery support (all recovery residences) to medical and counseling services (at recovery residences offering higher levels of support).
